

Academy seminar presents vision correction solutions

A Varilux Academy was held late last year in Auckland and Christchurch with staff from the International Centre for Eyecare Education, (ICEE) providing training to local eyecare professional on the latest in lenses and measuring techniques.

Presented and funded by Essilor International, the world's largest manufacturer of corrective spectacle lenses, the programme deals with everything from the psychology of the patient to practical workshops on today's modern lenses. Varilux Academy course contents are tailored to suit the various levels and needs of the eyecare professionals who attend, and are adapted to their knowledge of the area in question.

"Having practitioners with the latest skills and information is vital to providing the best possible eyecare. This programme provides a good platform in maintaining the quality standard in our industry," said Olivier Chupin, Essilor New Zealand General Manager.

From far left: Tim Thurn, Craig Butler and David Wilson; Andy and Bev Wilmot; and Rear: Illana Gutnik, Clare Hodge and Tracy Potbury, with Alisha Waller, Mona Sharma, Pat White and Michelle Ansley (front).

